Calling all Old English Sheepdogs to the first annual Sheepiepaloosa in St. Louis, MO on Saturday and Sunday, May 26th -27th 2007.

Saturday will be a tour of the dog friendly sights of St. Louis in the historic neighborhoods of Webster Groves, Soulard and The Central West End. Join in at any stop along the way or participate in the whole day with your energetic sheepdog, including the Sheepie Parade.

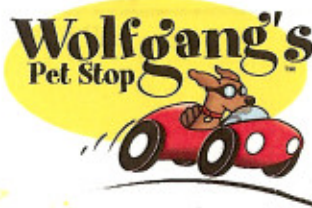

Sunday will be held at Purina Farms, an animal education facility operated by Nestle Purina Pet Care Company. There will be a herding demonstration, a rally and open area, agility equipment and a grooming workshop in addition to a play area. People and Sheepies alike can socialize all day and at the barbecue. Don't miss out on the group photo.

All events are free but registration is required. There will be plenty of romping time for the dogs and a chance for the owners to socialize with other Sheepie Lovers. So bring your OES and your camera and join the fun of Sheepiepaloosa.

Wipe those Sheepie paws and beards with a souvenir Sheepiepaloosa towel available for advance purchase. Proceeds from sales to benefit OES Rescue. There will be limited quantities available the day of the events.
